

Match Report for LRTA v Petworth 13th February 2022

The LRTA match against Petworth (PHTC) was a very happy day. The rotten, rainy weather didn't matter a bit. The doubles matches, three before and three after the singles, were played on the clock, each lasting 45 minutes. There were no huge handicap differences, the matches were close and always fun.

The singles match, in the middle of the day, saw Georgie Willis (LRTA) take on Geoffrey Russell (PHTC), and they treated us to some very high class tennis, exhausting to watch, never mind play! Georgie came out on top in this match, which was closer than the score might indicate. They certainly deserved their lunch-and were not disappointed in it! Helen Linfield's lunches are legendary, and are even more so after the splendid spread she put on!

It was lovely to have some young players (two taking advantage of the LRTA U30 scheme) and also some who hadn't been to PHTC before. Everyone was so busy chatting and watching that the overall result didn't really matter-but, for those who are interested in such things, the LRTA won 4 of the 7 matches so just pipped PHTC.
